With this difference in opinion, the early business was cluding 300 Texans. Market slow but steady. Native shipping and export steers, $4.25@5.25; were reported weak to 5c lower. There was a $2,5003.75; cows and heifers, $2.2504.25; canners, very fair demand from all buyers and as much was evident that late trains would bring in enough hogs to make the supply entirely adequate, and after the first round of sales the general market weakened. Later in the day the market was reported 5c lower, with occasional sales, especially of light hogs, showing nearly 10c decline. On the closing market packers, as usual for several days past, did not have much opposition and, therefore, they took more time and the bulk of the supply sold at $4.80@5. Quo-

cattle to-day for Friday, but not a large supply. Most of the offerings were about the same kinds as regards quality, weight and condition as the full creams firm; small creams, 12c; late made, average heretofore this week, with improvement in some departments. The market opened with in some departments. The market opened with large colored, September, 12c; late made, 10c; a fair request from nearly all buyers for the large colored, 121/2c; late made, 10c; large white, thick fat cattle in all departments, and in the steer line there was a more active outlet than at the start yesterday. Dealers frequently reat the start yesterday. Dealers frequently reported this class of cattle strong, but in a general way salesmen would not admit that there was any important advance. The choice light butcher steers sold to better advantage than other kinds. There was a continued good market for practically all kinds of cows. Thick fat helfers sold as well as they have at any time recently, but the common to medium grades again moved very slowly, and prices generally were not up to expectations. The bull market was reported steady, and calves were steady early, but closed lower. There was a better demand for feeding cattle than there has been any time this week, and, although ruling prices were probably a little below expectations, the market in a general way was reported strong, especially for the best selections. Sheep-Although the receipts of sheep and lambs to-day were larger than heretofore this week, the supply was comparatively small, and slow. the different grades were not well represented. There was not enough of any kind to establish an extreme range in prices. In a general way the market was reported steady, but it appears from representative sales that prices were strong. A few lambs sold as high as $6.10, and practically all of the supply sold at $6. Best sheep sold at $3.75, and others were reported as low as $3. Sales of bucks were frequently made at $3. There was not enough to encourage competition be-

com both local and outside sources, and carance was made promptly at opening uotations:	dag

BOSTON, Jan. 15.-The Commercial Bulletin Saturday will say: "Foreign markets are all higher. Antwerp is up 5 per cent, on river-plate wools. Australian and New Zealand markets are higher, the latter having advanced 10 per cent. with the opening last Monday. At the London auction, to begin next Tuesday, ligher prices are certain, owing to the primary advance. The local market is very firm, but no higher. Holders are liberal sellers of territory wools at current rates. The week has been fairly active in sales of 50,000 lbs to 200,000 lbs The opening of the new heavy-weight goods at reduced prices from last year is a bearish feature in the wool market, and it will e impossible for manufacturers to pay higher prices for the raw material unless goods are subsequently advonced. Still the firmness in foreign wool markets will prevent any decline here. The shipments of wool from Boston to date from Dec. 31, 1903, are 9,657,249 lbs, against 12.629,121 lbs at the same date last year. The receipts to date are 6,779,286 lbs, against 5,493,519
